THE MAYFLOWER

THE MAYFLOWER, a vessel of 180 tons, carried from Southampton, England, to Plymouht, Massachusetts, the Pilgrims who established the first permanent colony in New England. In company with the "Speedwell," a sister ship, the Mayflower sailed from Southampton on the 5th of August. 1620, the two having on board 120 Pilgrims. After two trials, the Speedwell was pronounced unseaworthy, and the Mayflower sailed alone from Plymouth, England, on the 6th of September with 100 (or 102) passengers, 41 of whom on the 11th of November signed the famous "Mayflower Compact" in Provincetown Harbor. They had succeeded in crossing the Atlantic after a stormy voyage of 63 days.

They had intended to go to the mouth of the Hudson River, but the captain of the Mayflower took them instead to Cape Cod. They landed at Plymouth, Massachusetts, at the point where Plymouth Rock, a huge granite boulder stands at the water's edge. A complete and authentic list of the male passengers who landed from the Mayflower is as follows:

John Carver was the first governor of the Plymouth Colony but died within six months after the landing.

William Bradford was elected to the office of governor following the death of John Carver, and he continued to hold this office from 1621 until his death, May 9, 1657, with the exception of a brief period when he declined re-election.

The following is a copy of the covenant agreed upon by these first settlers of Massachusetts, signed and subscribed to on board the MAYFLOWER at Cape Cod, November 11, 1620.

THE MAYFLOWER COMPACT

In the name of God, Amen! We, whose names are underwritten, the loyal subjects of our dread sovereign Lord, King James, by the grace of God, of Great Britain, France and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, etc., have undertaken for the glory of God and the advancement of the Christian faith, and honor of our King and Country, a voyage to plant the first colony in the northern parts of Virginia; do by these presents, solemnly and mutually, in the presence of God and of one another, covenant and combine ourselves together into a civil body politic for our better ordering and preservation, and furthermore of the ends aforesaid; and by virtue hereof to enact, constitute and frame just and equal laws, ordinances, acts, constitutions, and offices from time to time, as shall be thought most mete and convenient for the general good of the colony; unto which we promise all due submission and obedience.

In Witness Whereof we have hereunto subscribed our names, at Cape Cod, the 11th of November, in the year of the reign of our sovereign Lord, King James of England, France and Ireland, the Eighteenth, and of Scotland, the Fifty-fourth, Anno Domini 1620.

THE MULLENS FAMILY

The following is the lineage from which our PRISCILLA MULLENS is said to have sprung:

Generation

WILLIAM THE CONQUEROR

1. William I, King of England, surnamed the Conqueror, was born in Normandy in 1027. He was the son of Robert, Duke of Normandy, and Herleva, daughter of Fulbert, a tanner of Falaise, and he succeeded to the Duchy of Normandy. He married Matilda, daughter of Baldwin, Earl of Flanders, in 1054. He came over to England with his army and, winning the battle of Hastings, October 14, 1066, became King of that country. He died on September 9, 1087.

HENRY I

2. Henry I, King of England, was born in England in 1068, and was the fourth and youngest son of William the Conqueror and Matilda of Flanders. In 1101 he married Matilda, daughter of Malcolm, King of Scotland and his wife, Margaret Atheling, a great-granddaughter of Edmund Ironside. He died near Rouen, France, on December 1, 1135, leaving no son to succeed him, but bequeathing his crown to his daughter, Matilda, widow of Henry V, Emperor of Germany, and wife of Geoffrey Plantagenet.

MATILDA

3. Matilda was the daughter of Henry I, King of England, and his wife, Matilda of Scotland. She was first married to Henry V, Emperor of Germany, and after his death to Geoffrey Plantagenet, eldest son of Fulk, Count of Anjou and King of Jerusalem. Matilda, after much dissension and fighting, finally gained the throne of England, but was soon displaced by Stephen of Blois.

HENRY II

4. Henry II, King of England, was the son of Matilda and Geoffrey Plantagenet. He was born at Le Mans on March 5, 1133. At the age of sixteen he was knighted by his great uncle, David of Scotland, and attained the crown of England at the age of twenty-one. In 1152 he married Eleanor of Aquitaine, the divorced wife of Louis VII of France. It was during the reign of Henry II, and at his instigation, that Thomas A. Beckett, Archbishop of Canterbury, was murdered by Sir William Tracy and two other knights.

JOHN LACKLAND

5. John (surnamed Lackland), King of England, was the youngest son of Henry II and Eleanor of Aquitaine. He was born on December 24, 1167, and succeeded his brother, Richard the Lion-hearted, to the throne. He divorced his first wife, who was heiress of the great Earldom of Gloucester, and married Isabella, heiress of the Count of Angouleme. It was he who was compelled by the barons to sign the Magna Charta at Runnymede, June 15, 1215. He died on October 19, 1216.

HENRY III

6. Henry III, King of England, was the eldest son of John and Isabella, and was born on October 1, 1207. In 1236 he married Eleanor of Provence. He died November 16, 1272.

EDWARD I

7. Edward I, King of England, was the son of Henry III and Eleanor, daughter of the Count of Provence, and was born at Westminster, June 16, 1239. In 1254, he married Eleanor, daughter of Alphonse X of Castille. He died July 7, 1307.

PRINCESS JOAN

8. Princess Joan, daughter of Edward I and Eleanor of Castille, married Ralph, Earl of Gloucester and Hereford, and First Baron Monthermer.

SIR THOMAS MONTHERMER

9. Sir Thomas Monthermer, son of Princess Joan and Ralph, was the second Lord Monthermer, and Earl of Gloucester and Hereford. He married Anne of Guienne.

MARGARET MONTHERMER

10 Margaret Monthermer was the only daughter and heiress of Sir Thomas Monthermer and Anne of Guienne. She married Sir John De Montacute, second son of William, Earl of Salisbury, whose son, John D. Montacute, Lord Monthermer, Jure matris, succeeded as Third Earl of Salisbury.

ROBERT MONTACUTE

11. Robert Montecute, son of Sir John Montecute and Margaret Monthermer, married Mary of Devon. The house of Montecute was founded in England by Drago De Monte Acuto, who came to England with William the Conqueror, in the train of Robert, Earl of Moreton. He appears, by the Domesday Book, to have held under the Earl the manors of Shipton, Montacute and Sutton Montacute. From him descended all the noble families of Montacute and Montagu.

JOHN MONTACUTE

12. John Montacute, son of Robert Montacute and Mary of Devon, married Agnes More.

WILLIAM MONTACUTE

13. William Montacute, son of John Montacute and Agnes More, married Mary Sutton of Devon.

WILLIAM MONTECUTE

14. William Montecute, son of William Montacute and Mary Sutton, married Margaret Pererell of Devon.

JOHANNA MONTACUTE

15. Johanna Montacute, daughter of William Montacute and Margaret Pererell, married John Molines or Mullens. The MOLINES or MULLENS family was an old one in England. The records show that James De Molines (Mullens) was summoned to Parliament in 1347. One branch of the family possessed a barony which passed to the Hungerford family in 1423.

JOHN MOLINES (MULLENS)

16 John Molines (Mullens), son of Johanna Montacute and John Molines (Mullens), married Elizabeth _____ of Somersetshire.

HENRY MOLINES (MULLENS)

17. Henry Molines (Mullens), son of John and Elizabeth Molines (Mullens), married Joan Montagu.

WILLIAM MULLENS (MOLINES)

18. William Mullens (Molines), (recorded in the Plymouth records as William Mullens), son of Henry Molines, (Mullens), and Joan Montague, married Alice Poretiers. They came to New England from Dorking in Surrey, England, on the first voyage of the Mayflower and landed at Plymouth, Massachusetts, in 1620. With them were their two children, PRISCILLA and Joseph, and a white servant named Robert Carter who died the first winter at Plymouth. William Mullens (Mullines) signed the Compact in the cabin of the Mayflower at Cape Cod on November 11, 1620.

There was a William Mullens at Duxbury, Massachusetts, in 1642, who, according to James Savage in his Genealogical Dictionary of New England, may have been a son of William Mullens (Mullins) of the Mayflower, and who was left by his father in England and afterwards came over to join the surviving friends and relatives. However, there is nothing authentic on the subject.

William Mullens, his wife Alice, and also his son Joseph died during the first winter at Plymouth. The death of William Mullens occurred on February 21, 1621.

PRISCILLA MULLENS or MULLINS or MOLINES

19. Priscilla Mullens, was the only daughter of William Mullens and his wife Alice Poretiers Mullens, and was born at Dorking, Surrey, England, about 1603. In the spring of 1621, she was married at Plymouth, Massachusetts to JOHN ALDEN. She died at Duxbury, Massachusetts sometime after 1650, probably ten years or more, as during that year, Governor Bradford states in his history that both John and Priscilla were living and had eleven children. We can find records for only eight, so it is quite likely that three of them died in infancy or quite young.

This line is now merged into that of the ALDEN FAMILY.

THE ALDEN FAMILY

JOHN ALDEN, born in England in 1599, was the first of our ancestors to reach the American continent. He came over in 1620 on the first voyage of the Mayflower which sailed from England, August 5, 1620, and arrived in November, 1620. For more than sixty years after, he was one of the most familiar figures in New England.

In 1621, JOHN ALDEN married PRISCILLA MULLINS (or Molines), daughter of William Mullins and Alice (Poretiers) Mullins. This family also came over on the first voyage of the Mayflower and Mr. Mullins, his wife and only son died in February following their landing. They left only their daughter, Priscilla, an orphan and alone in a strange and new land; but she found a protector for life when she consented to marry the "tallest man in the colony" a few months later. Shortly after their marriage, they moved to Duxbury, Mass., which was only a few miles north of Plymouth.

We have a record of eight children, but Governor Bradford states in his history that at the time of his writing, that John and Priscilla were both living and had eleven children. It is quite probable that three died young.

Children of John and Priscilla Alden:

John Alden married Elizabeth Phillips
ELIZABETH ALDEN married WILLIAM PEABODY
Joseph Alden married Mary Simmons
Jonathan Alden married Abigail Hallett
Sarah Alden married Alexander Standish (son of Miles Standish)
Ruth Alden married John Bass
Mary Alden married Thomas Delano
David Alden married Mercy Southworth

This line is now merged into that of the PEABODY FAMILY.

HISTORIC ORIGIN of the NAME - PEABODY

This name is said to have its origin about the year 61 A.D. in the reign of Nero, the tyrant emperor, at which time the ancient Britons, who were tribes of the more ancient Cambri, were in a state of vassalage to the emperor. Parsutagus and Boadicae were reigning king and queen of Icena, Britain, and upon the death of the king the officers of Nero seized everything in their power. Queen Boadicae, being a woman of great abilities and valor, opposed the vile proceedings, as did the enraged Britons. The Queen revolted and with the assistance of her kinsman, a patriarch in one of the tribes, named Boadie, fought many desperate battles and made great massacre among the Romans. However, Roman reinforcements forced the Britons to retreat into the craggy mountains of Wales, whence they made frequent incursions upon the Romans, seizing trophies, armor, equipment, etc.

Boadie, among the ancient Britons, signified "man" or "Great Man" and "Pea" signified a "large hill" or "mountain." which occasioned this patriarch to be distinguished among his neighboring enemies by the name of Peabodie or Mountain-man.

In the reign of King Arthur, in the sixth century, the kingdom was invaded by the northern Saxons. A leader and patriarch of one of the tribes by the name of Peabodie, a man of much influence and wealth, by his prowess and exertion in the battle on the river Douglass, aided much in expelling the invaders.

Peabodie had in his possession a trophy taken from the Romans in 62 A.D., which had been carefully preserved by his ancestry. King Arthur, as a reward for his unshaken fidelity and heroic valor, ordered the trophy to be registered with additions so as to stand as above stated to the name of Peabodie.

> The above was extracted from the Ancient Records, Vol. II, Folio 327, No. 109, and transferred to Modern Records, Vol. II, Folio 35, No. 97. (signed) Robert N. Andrews, Asst. Secty. Examined:- B. Gerard, Armorer, Heraldry Office, London, Cheapside, October 23, 1796.

JOHN (Peabodie) PEABODY was born in England obout 1590. He lived at St. Albans, Hertfordshire, and there married and there his children were born. His wife's name was Isabel, who coming to America with him, survived him. We find his name, together with that of his son WILLIAM, in the list of the original proprietors of Plymouth. He died at Bridgewater, Mass., about 1667. He left four children:

Thomas Peabody
Francis Peabody married Mary Foster
WILLIAM PEABODY married ELIZABETH ALDEN, daughter of JOHN and PRISCILLA ALDEN
Annis Peabody married John Rouse

The name is variously spelled in New England: Peabody, Peabodie, Paybody, Pabodie. All are the same source and are the same people. References: Gen. Leroy Augustus Stafford, Chap. VI, pp 332-333

WILLIAM PEABODY

We are particularly interested in the progeny of William Peabody. He was the third son of John and Isabel Peabody, and was born at St. Albans, Hertfordshire, England, in 1620. He came to Plymouth about 1636 with his father and afterwards removed to Duxbury, Massachusetts, where he held many offices of trust and responsibility, and was generally much employed in public affairs. He owned considerable land in Duxbury, Bridgewater and Freetown, and was one of the original purchasers of Little Compton, Rhode Island, whither he removed with his family about 1684. He married on December 26, 1644, Elizabeth Alden, second child and eldest daughter of John and Priscilla Alden. She was the first white female born in New England. William Peabody died December 13, 1707, at Little Compton, Rhode Island, age 87 years. Elizabeth Alden Peabody outlived her husband ten years. The following notice appeared in the "Boston News Letter" of June 17, announcing her death:

> "Little Compton, Rhode Island, 31 May, 1717. This morning died here Mrs. Elizabeth Peabody in the 93rd year of her age. She was a daughter of John Alden, Esquire, and Priscilla, his wife, daughter of Mr. William Mullins. She was exemplary, virtuous and pious, and her memory is blessed. She has left a numerous posterity. Her granddaughter Bradford is a grandmother."

Children of ELIZABETH ALDEN and WILLIAM PEABODY, all of whom were born in Duxbury:

1. John Peabody; b. Oct. 4, 1645; d. Nov. 17, 1669
2. Elizabeth Peabody; b. Apr. 24, 1647; m. John Rogers

THE WADDELL FAMILY

It was not unusual in the days of our Pilgrim ancestors to find the same name spelled in several different ways. The above family name generally appeared in two forms, Wodell and Waddell, the latter being the one most frequently used.

WILLIAM WADDELL first lived in Massachusetts, where with others he came under the influence of Samuel Gorton, one of the noted religious and civil disturbers of that period, a man of dominating personality. He had very radical convictions and his doctrines created such disturbances in Massachusetts and Rhode Island that the Colonial Government (not very liberal in itself) became much perturbed about him, so much so that he was brought to trial and received severe punishment. When Gorton and his companions were arrested by the Massachusetts authorities in November, 1643, WILLIAM WADDELL was among the number. John Gorham Palfrey, in his History of New England, in referring to the conviction and punishment of Gorton and his companions, says: "Waddell, an ignorant young man, was only ordered to remain at Watertown." It is thus seen that he was not judged as guilty as some of the others, it seeming to be the imperssion that his actions in the matter were due to youth and ignorance. After this he went to Portsmouth, Rhode Island, and there resided most of his life.

In Portsmouth, he filled several important offices down to 1690. Before his trial with the Gorton people he lived in Shawomet, afterwards known as Warwick. His wife's name was Mary and he married her about 1639. His Will bears the date of Oct. 7, 1692, and was probated May 2, 1693, so it is quite evident that he died between those two dates. His wife died March 23, 1676. They had five children:

1. MARY WADDELL; born Nov., 1640
2. Gershom Waddell; born July 14, 1642
3. Sarah Waddell; born Oct., 1644
4. Alice Waddell: born Feb. 10, 1650
5. Frances Waddell, born July 6, 1652

Gershom Waddell, only son of the above, lived at Portsmouth, Rhode Island, and there married a daughter of John Tripp. He had four sons and three daughters: William, Richard, Return, Gershom, Sarah, Mary and Innocent.

MARY WADDELL, eldest child of William and Mary Waddell, was born in Shawomet (Warwick), Rhode Island, in November, 1640. Most of her young life was spent in Portsmouth, in that colony. It was in the latter place that she met Daniel GRINNELL and was married to him in 1657. He was a son of Matthew Grinnell of Portsmouth, a Huguenot whom religious persecution banished from his native France and caused him to seek a home in the New World. As was usually the case at that period, this couple probably had a numerous family but we have been able to find a record of only one child, Daniel Grinnell, Jr., who was born in 1658.

This line now merges into that of the GRINNELL FAMILY.

THE GRINNELL FAMILY

The GRINNELL family is of Huguenot origin, and is sometimes recorded as Grennell. It would seem from the recorded facts that Matthew Grinnell is the progenitor of those of this name in the United States. He, an emigrant, and his wife, Rose, settled in Newport, Rhode Island in 1630. A short time thereafter they moved to Portsmouth, Rhode Island, where their son Daniel was born in 1636. They are listed in Portsmouth in 1638 and among those admitted as freemen, we find the name of Matthew Grinnell.

THE STANARD FAMILY

The first Stanard of record in America is John Stanard (Stonard, Stonnard) in Roxbury in 1645. In August of that year he mortgaged his estate to Gov. Dudley and the same was discharged January, 1647. Originally, he had brought wife and children from England.

This genealogy starts with LEMUEL URIAH STANARD, SR., who married March 22, 1738-9 RUTH GRINNELL, the great-great-granddaughter of John Alden and Priscilla Mullins. This marriage is recorded in "Early Saybrook Marriages," Vol. II, page 114. Lemuel Stanard participated in the organization of the town of Winchester and died there between 1789 and 1796.

Following are the children born from this marriage. However, we feel this list is incomplete, the several daughters not being listed.

Mercy Stanard: m. Apr. 11, 1773 Daniel Grover

Lemuel Stanard, Jr.: b. Apr. 13, 1750; m. Apr. 14, 1774 Christian Spencer

Abel Stanard: m. June 23, 1774 Phebe Stevens

William Stanard: m. Sept. 15, 1779 Hanna Sweet

Seth Stanard: m. Nov. 13, 1785 Martha Preston

EZRA PEABODY STANARD: b. March 13, 1766; m. Jan. 19, 1786 MARGARET NORTON

Lemuel Stanard, with his sons Lemuel, Jr., Abel and William took the Oath of Fidelity to the State of Connecticut in 1782.

Lemuel Stanard, Jr., and William Stanard were privates in Capt. John Hills Co., 1778.

William Stanard went to Ticonderoga in 1775, Capt. Sedgwick's Co., Col. Hinman's Regt.

William Stanard served in Capt. Morris's Co., Bradley's Regt., 1781.

Ezra Peabody Stanard served in Connecticut Army prior to 1780.

EZRA PEABODY STANARD, son of Lemuel and Ruth (Grinnell) Stanard, was born in Saybrook, Conn., March 13, 1766. In Wnchester, on Jan. 19, 1786, he married MARGARET NORTON, who was born in Goshen, Conn., August 21, 1766. He was known both as Ezra Stannard and as Peabody Stannard and is officially listed with the War Department as Ezra Stannard in some places and as Pebody Stanard in other places. However, the War Department Adjutant General's Office has listed him as EZRA PEABODY STANARD.

His marriage to Margaret Norton gave them twelve children:

1. Charles Stanard: b. Oct. 16, 1786 Winchester, Conn.; d. Sept., 1816
2. Lorrain Stanard: b. May 9, 1788 Winchester, Conn.; d. Feb. 22, 1837

7. Almira Eliza Stanard: b. Jan. 2, 1801 Bennington Co., Vt.; d. 1866
8. Miranda Stanard: b. Sept. 14, 1802 Madison Co., New York; d. Sept. 27, 1873
9. EZRA D. STANARD: b. Feb. 5, 1804 Madison Co., New York; d. Jan. 18, 1864
10. Margaret Sophronia Stanard: b. Oct. 11, 1805 Madison Co., New York; d. April 18, 1834
11. Jabez Stanard: b. Nov. 2, 1807 Madison Co., New York
12. John Stanard: b. Sept., 1810 Madison Co., New York; d. Nov. 1816

Lemuel Stanard, Jr., left Connecticut about 1790 and moved to Rupert, Bennington Co., Vermont. The land records show that he owned property there from the late 1700's to about 1820. Nothing after that date.

Ezra Peabody Stanard left Connecticut in 1798 and moved north to Bennington Co., Vermont. At this time he had decided to make New York the ultimate goal in the future and his move to Vermont was in the nature of a visit with his older brother before taking the big step of emigrating to a new and undeveloped section of our country.

THE MERCHANT FAMILY

The English surname MERCHANT, of which MARCHANT is in some cases a variant form, was derived from the occupation of its first bearers. In early American records the name Merchant appears in at least a dozen different spellings, the forms most mentioned being Merchant, Merchante, le Merchant, Marchant, Marchand, Merchaunte, et cetera. However, the forms most mentioned are Merchant and Marchant.

From early American records we learn that John Merchant was living at Braintree, Massachusetts, before 1638, and William Merchant was living at Watertown, Massachusetts, before 1639. Both were of English descent.

The line which affiliates with the Stanard line is easily traced to a JOHN MERCHANT, supposedly of French Hugenot descent, who married Sarah Gilbert, August 27, 1724, at Stratford, Connecticut. Nine children were born from this marriage.

Their first child, JOHN, born May 5, 1725, in Stratford, married June 3, 1756, Prudence Stoddard, daughter of Eliakim Stoddard and granddaughter of "Rev. Anthony Stoddard, pastor of the First Church of Christ in Woodbury, who departed this life in the 83rd year of his age and the 61st of his ministry, Sept. 6, 1760."

TRUMAN MERCHANT was the son of John and Prudence Stoddard-Merchant. He was born March 5, 1764, at Woodbury, Connecticut, and died January 31, 1841, at Fenner, Madison Co., New York. During the Revolutionary War he served with the New York Militia, 6th Regt., from Dutchess Co. About 1795 he married MARGARET VAN RENSSELAER and emigrated to Fenner. Margaret died December 30, 1843. Both Truman and Margaret are buried in Wilson Cemetery at Fenner. Their first child was Amos Merchant.

AMOS MERCHANT was born July 5, 1797, in Cazenovia, New York. He married January 8, 1818, ALMIRA ELIZA STANARD, daughter of Ezra Peabody Stanard and Margaret Norton Stanard. Almira was born January 2, 1801, in Bennington Co., Vermont, and died in December, 1867, at Napoli, Cattaraugus Co., New York, age 66. Amos died March 15, 1887, at Napoli, age 89. Both Amos and Almira are buried in the Elm Creek Road Cemetery on the outskirts of Napoli.

EZRA D. STANARD and ALMIRA ELIZA STANARD were brother and sister.

REUBEN MERCHANT, son of Amos Merchant and Almira Eliza Stanard-Merchant, was born in 1828 at Cazenovia, Madison Co., New York and died May 27, 1904, at Napoli, age 76. He married Calphurnia Carl, born November 11, 1833, daughter of William Carl. She died March 4, 1909 at Napoli. Both Reuben and Calphurnia are buried in the Elm Creek Road Cemetery.

Their son, WILLIAM LEONIDAS MERCHANT, was born March

17, 1859, at Napoli. On September 9, 1876, he married (1) Anna Ray at Steamburg, Cattaraugus Co., N.Y. He died at Napoli, February 24, 1932. Anna Ray died May 14, 1936, at San Francisco.

Their daughter is FRANC MERCHANT-ELLIOTT, widow of Harry Charles Elliott, newspaper publisher and prominent in Masonic circles.

DANIEL STANARD

"DANIEL STANARD, well known citizen of Cass County, Michigan, and prominently identified with the agricultural interests of Porter Township, was born in Cattaraugus County, New York, March 2, 1828, the son and second child of Ezra D. and Sarah Cargill Stanard.

In 1844, at the age of 16, Daniel accompanied his parents with a family of ten young children from New York to Porter Township, Cass County, Michigan. They settled on Government land in Secs. 3, 4, 5, Town 7. At that time the land was an unbroken wilderness and forest. Daniel cleared 180 acres for himself aside from assisting in the clearing of his father's land and doing considerable pioneer work, helping to build log cabins, shelters, etc.

On June 18, 1854, at the age of 26, he married Miss Lucinda Glass, who was born in Stark County, Ohio, September 20, 1837. She was the daughter of William Glass who came originally from Skaneateles Falls, Onondaga County, New York, via Stark County, Ohio, to Michigan in 1846. See "Glass Family." Directly after the marriage they went to the home which he had prepared and where they lived until their death. They celebrated their golden wedding June 18, 1904. Daniel died December 28, 1904, and Lucinda died January 5, 1907. They resided on the original homestead in Porter Township all their married life and are buried in Sandhill Cemetery, Newberg Township.

Daniel Stanard's grandfather, Ezra Peabody Stanard, was a Revolutionary War soldier, and Ezra Pearbody's father Lemuel Stanard, was decorated by General George Washington as an "Outstanding Patriot" in the cause for freedom.

In his political affiliations, Daniel Stanard was a Republican from the organization of the party but never aspired to any official position. He and his wife were identified with the Methodist church in which they were active workers and generous contributors. He was a member of the Masonic lodge and his forebears were high in Masonry. His grandfather, Ezra Peabody Stanard, was a Grand Master Mason in New York State.

An earnest, upright and conscientious man, Daniel Stanard occupies a high place in the regard of his fellowmen and will always be remembered as one of the most progressive of Porter Township citizens."—Biographical Record, Cass and Berrient Counties, p. 357.

Although the STANARDS were not among the earliest settlers in Porter Township, the family is an old and distinguished one in the annals of early American history. Daniel Stanard was a direct descendant of John and Priscilla Alden and William and Alice Portiers Mullins of Mayflower fame. His line of descent has long been established and his is a proud heritage indeed.

Daniel Stanard and his wife, Lucinda, were the parents of eight children. The oldest daughter, Sarah, my mother, married Edward C. Trattles, well known and highly respected citizen of Porter Township.

THE GLASS FAMILY

Register of Deeds, St. Joseph Co., Michigan, show that Solomon and Betsy Griswold, agents for William Cyrus Glass of Onondaga County, New York, purchased certain parcels of land in the District, subject to sale at White Pigeon Territory of Michigan, Oct. 6, 1835, viz: E½ NE¼ Sec. 14, T8S, R13W 80 acres and E½ SE½ Sec. 14, T8S, R13W 80 acres Vol. D, p. 137; also May 19, 1838, William Cyrus Glass from Ezekiel Griswold W½ SE¼ Sec. 14, 80 acres $110.00. Note: These properties are about one mile north of Constantine, beginning on the west side of the St. Joseph river and westward, comprising land now owned by Munson, Hoffine, Olson, Burger Est., Allerton Est.

The first requirement and necessity for the settlers was water. They also needed forests to provide timbers for cabins, shelters for animals and some protection from the weather. They must have thought they had reached the Promised Land when they beheld the beautiful St. Joseph river and the gently rolling countryside of fertile soil and virgin timber.

"Feb. 18, 1847, William Glass (Jr.) and John Baker, both originally from Stark Co., Ohio, bought land in Porter Township from William and Katheryn Baum. Paid $300.00." William Glass (Jr.) son of William and Priscilla Glass, married Katheryn Baum, daughter of the above William and Katheryn Baum. WILLIAM TRATTLES (my grandfather), second child of William and Jane Hebron Trattles, was born October 14, 1813, in Whitby, Yorkshire, England. At the age of 18 he came to America with his parents and resided in Porter Township the remainder of his life.

In 1846 WILLIAM TRATTLES married JANE TIBBETS, daughter of William Tibbets, the first permanent settler in Porter Township. Note: Incidentally for the record, the first to settle temporarily in Porter Township was John Baldwin, a Southerner, who came from Indiana in 1828 and settled on what is now known as Baldwins Prairie. He operated a tavern and bought and sold several pieces of property. After a series of misfortunes he moved to Mason Township and after the death of his wife and serious trouble with the Indians, he returned to Indiana about 1836.

As early as 1821 the fame of the Valley of the St. Joseph (river) had been carried by the Indians, trappers and traders to the frontier settlements in Ohio and New York. Among those who listened with interest were William Tibbets and his brother Nathan Tibbets. Nathan Tibbets, my great uncle, established his claim in Porter Township Sec. 8, T8, on June 16, 1829; John Baldwin established his claim Sept. 18, 1829, and William Tibbets, my great-grandfather, established his claim Jan. 17, 1830. THE HEBRON FAMILY

WILLIAM HEBRON, founder of the American branch, was born in 1788 in Westerdale, Yorkshire, England, and died in Porter Township, Cass County, Michigan, October 27, 1857, age 69 years. William Hebron married Sarah Bulmer who was born in 1788 and died Sept. 15, 1838, age 50 years. They are buried in Long cemetery, Porter Township.

William Hebron was a man of striking appearance, 6 feet 2 inches tall, a fine classical scholar, well versed in astronomy, a business man, farmer and stockman. His father fought in the battle of Waterloo.

In 1831 William Hebron and his wife, Sarah Bulmer Hebron, came to America with a family of 10 children, leaving two in England, Dennison and Mary Hebron-Wetherell. With an ample fortune they landed in New York City, November 1, 1831. They went up the Hudson river to Albany, thence by Erie Canal to Buffalo, then by boat to Detroit where Mr. Hebron purchased ox teams to take them to Cass County, arriving at the St. Joseph river near Mottville, May 21, 1832. They acquired, cleared and settled over 1,000 acres of Government land in Sec. 15, 18, 21, 22, 25 and 26, T7, R13W, in Porter Township.

We are particularly interested in the progeny of Gideon Hebron, who was only a few months old when brought to America. He grew to manhood in Porter Township, where he married and where his children were born. He was well educated, a student all his life, well informed and progressive, a successful farmer and stockman. He was a member and Deacon of the Porter Baptist Church.

GIDEON HEBRON, youngest child of William and Sarah Bulmer Hebron, was born June 7, 1831, in Westerdale, Yorkshire, England. Died Jan. 24, 1897. Married Nov. 23, 1853, to Elizabeth Trattles, born Aug. 15, 1829 in Whitby, Yorkshire, England; died March 29, 1906. They are buried in Long cemetery. 3 children:

1. Mark Hebron; 1 son, Harold Hebron.
2. Georgianna Hebron-Orr; b. 1856, d. 1949; 1 son, Thomas Orr, b. 1888, d. 1952.
3. Frank Hebron, b. 1862, d. 1927; m. 1886 to Ruby F. Bisbee in Ponca, Nebraska, b. June 7, 1869, d. Jan. 12, 1958, age 89 years. 1 son: George Melnott Hebron, b. July 15, 1890; m. Dec. 26, 1911, to Vio Alice Bartholomew, b. Dec. 5, 1893. 5 children:
   1. Gertrude Edith Hebron, b. Dec. 21, 1912, d. Oct. 15, 1934.
   2. Donna Jean Hebron-Taube, b. Oct. 12, 1914. 4 children: Linda Lee, b. Aug. 28, 1943; Robert Paul, b. Aug. 9, 1944; Gary Wayne, b. Nov. 2, 1948; Laura Jean, b. June 3, 1955.
   3. Alice Marie Hebron-Lewis, b. May 20, 1916. 1 child: Wilda Jean Lewis-Kuhl, b. April 20, 1941, 1 child, Brian, b. Aug. 29, 1959.
   4. Richard George Hebron, b. May 13, 1918; 4 children: Tony Vincent, b. March 8, 1942; Thomas Virgil, b. Oct. 31, 1945; Sally Elaine, b. Sept. 23, 1947; Tamara Marie, b. Sept. 3, 1952.
   5. Charles Edward Hebron, b. Nov. 26, 1924.

Note: A history of the Trattles family or the Hebron family would not be complete, one without the other. The two families were neighbors in Yorkshire, England. Their ancestors fought together in the Battle of Waterloo. They came to America at the same time and settled on nearby sections of land in Porter Township. They were inseparable in England and America and the same close ties of nearly 200 years exists today between the George Hebron family and the family of the writer. —Lois Trattles-Bowman.

CONCLUSION

After many years of exhaustive research and painstakingly checking documented references, the STANARD GENEALOGY 1620-1960 is finished.

This Genealogy has been submitted to many of the best Genealogical authorities and Historians in the country and the enthusiasm has been most flattering. With few exceptions each one found an affiliated line to be his own, and the references whereby each line could be proven only added to the enthusiasm. It has been suggested that this STANARD GENEALOGY would be most useful to anyone working on his eligibility to MAGNA CHARTA.

The Stanards have a rich heritage, unique in the annals of American History. We can be proud of this heritage, knowing that our progenitors were men and women held in high esteem, honest, courageous, industrious and patriotic.
